Answer

MINISTER OF SMALL SCALE INDUSTRIES & AGRO AND RURAL INDUSTRIES (SHRI MAHABIR PRASAD)

(a)&(b): Yes, Sir. Though registration of small scale industries is voluntary, entrepreneurs who, with a view to setting up of small scale industries, want to obtain permanent registration, have to get the necessary locational clearances from the competent authority as well as all other statutory clearances/no objection certificates/permission required to carry out the manufacture/activity under the prevalent laws, regulations and rules in force. Depending on the product to be manufactured or activity to be carried on and the location of the industry, the number of such clearances/no objection certificates may vary.

(c)&(d): Simplification of the existing procedures is a continuous process and it is always the endeavour of the Central Government to consult the State Governments, industry associations, etc., to bring about suitable changes from time to time.
